

I think it is wrong for anybody to regulate what data can be local/national. Since the XM Channels are all broadcast from Washington, DC, XM traffic and weather is in no way broadcast from certain metro areas, as the content for it comes from 3rd party providers.

If the NAB get their way, then why not regulate the internet and not let me be able to get to Saint Louis' newspaper from a Kansas City ISP.